

John Osinga

John and his wife, Jenny, have been a part of this church community for 20 years. They have three married children, Helen, Amber, and Jon, and two grandchildren, Eva and Mia. John grew up at Sweet Briar Dairy and attended Amherst Presbyterian Church. He is forever a Hokie and until recently worked as a small business owner for Dutch Yoghurt Inc, Osinga's Grocery, and a freight services company. His hobbies include woodworking and the honeydo list.

Over the years at First Presbyterian, he has attended Sunday School classes, participated in summer choir, joined the Walk with God group, and helped with various youth group activities. His favorite memory overall with this church community was winning the FPCLY cornhole competition. John wishes to support our church mission in every way. Since being newly retired, he feels that he has more time to offer his service to this ministry!
