

DR. BRAD MALCOLM

Bradley Malcolm is a recently retired pediatrician who practiced both inpatient and outpatient pediatrics for 42 years in Lynchburg, Virginia. Through the years he has taught physician assistant students, medical students and residents. He has received the Outstanding Teaching Award from the Lynchburg Family Practice Program as well as the Outstanding Preceptor Award from the University of Lynchburg Physician Assistant Program. He has served on a number of boards including Bridges, Lynchburg Academy of Medicine, Lynchburg Family Practice Residency Program, Jubilee Family Development for 12 years as well as other boards.

He graduated cum laude in chemistry and biology from Bowling Green State University and received his medical degree from the Ohio State University College of Medicine. He then completed his three year residency in pediatrics at the University of Virginia and did a fourth year as Chief Resident at UVA.

He is married to Susan Malcolm and has three children and eight grandchildren. He is involved with his community and enjoys cycling, golf, skiing and most sports in his free time. He has always been a strong advocate for children and adolescents.

